

World History, Part 2

Syllabus

Course Description

This course focuses on the origins, battles, and results of World War I and World War II. Students will study the rise of totalitarian states and the political environment in which they emerged. In addition, this course includes an in-depth study of the modern global situation, and the independence many former colonies now enjoy. Finally, students will examine the economical state of countries throughout the world and discuss why some have thrived and others have suffered.

Prerequisites

World History Part 1 (HIST 061 or equivalent) would be helpful.

Course Materials

All the materials you need are included in the course. You do not have to buy any additional textbooks.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, you should be able to do the following:

1. Analyze and explain imperialism and revolutions in nations around the world—leading up to the Great War, or World War I.
2. Investigate causes, impacts, and events in World War I and explain the occurrence of total war.
3. Examine economic and governmental theories and approaches and analyze how they led to the Great Depression.

4. Discuss the causes and events that led to World War II, how these events diminished colonization around the world, and the various theaters of WWII.
5. Analyze the process of many nations in Africa and Asia becoming independent and relate those events and World War II to the lead-up to and unfolding of the Cold War.
6. Explain the relationship of nations as the Cold War dragged on, and discuss nations in terms of contemporary challenges, including nationalism and terrorism.

Assignments & Note-Taking Guides

You will have different teacher-graded assignments in this course. Take the opportunity to apply what you have learned, and demonstrate your understanding of the lessons by analyzing and making comparisons. A rubric is included to help you review the requirements so that you include all the details in your assignment.

You will need to take notes as you move through each lesson. You will submit your work at the end of each world history era.

Module Quizzes

At the end of each module, you will submit a computer-graded quiz that will test your knowledge of the content for that module. These are open-note quizzes. You may take notes in each module on major course concepts that will help you with quizzes and exams. The note taking guides are found in the module overview pages or in the Course Resources page. You can use your notes in quizzes and throughout the course.

Midcourse Quiz

You will have a midcourse quiz that is NOT proctored. Try to take it without looking at your notes in preparation for the Final Exam, which is proctored.

Final Exam

The final exam consists of around 30 questions and is comprehensive, meaning it will include content from the entire course. In Module 16, you will have the opportunity to take a practice exam in preparation for the final.

Your grade in this course will be based on these assignments and exams. Your letter grade will be calculated according to these percentages.
